Spring

Dear Members,

Welcome to March in the Speech Therapy Notebooks Club! An extra special shout out to our founder members who have been with us since the Club started. It's our birthday this month and I'm so honored that you have helped us evolve our Club over the years!

There have been changes and improvements as we listen to your feedback each month. Take a look through the magazine this month to get a reminder of all of the materials you have available to you for Spring!

Are you planning to celebrate St. Patrick's Day in your Speech Room? If so, we have you covered with crafts, worksheets and more.

Wishing you all the luck of the Irish 😊

APRAXIA OF SPEECH

APRAXIA NOTEBOOKS

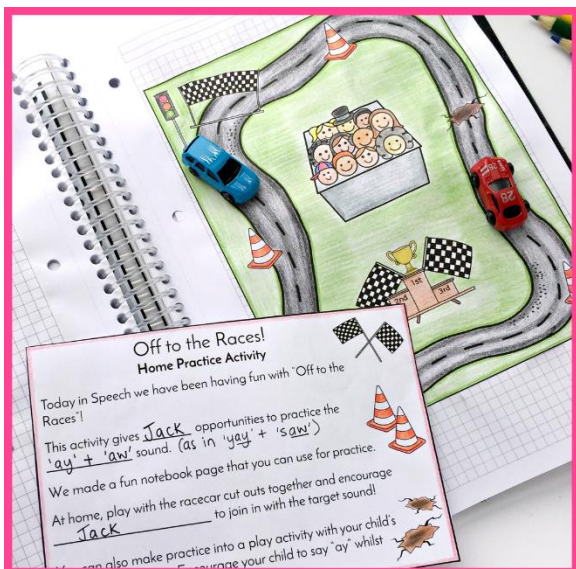

Whether you can see your students individually or are challenged by mixed groups, this Apraxia of Speech Interactive Notebooks Bundle contains so many materials you will love to use!

PRACTICE ISOLATE SOUNDS IN MEANINGFUL CONTEXT

PRACTICE ACTIVITIES FOR VOWELS

PRACTICE ACTIVITIES FOR CONSONANTS

Each activity has an accompanying "home practice note" to send home to parents.

APRAXIA OF SPEECH WORD LEVEL PRACTICE

Themed drill sheets give you an innovative way to conduct therapy while giving your students a personal project to be built week to week. You get themes to use all year including seasons, holidays, and other popular childhood themes.

Cards have a wide choice of words with VC / CV / CVC / CVCV / CVCVC & multisyllabic structure.

ACTIVITIES BY THEME

Select this category on the Home Page to easily find the materials you need to plan therapy around a theme.

Take a look through our selection of themed resources and select those that work best with your planning or perhaps with themes used by classroom teachers.

This month I suggest all of the fun activities found in these fun themes!

SPRING

ST. PATRICK'S

#SLPMETIME

Did you ever have the experience where you have never heard of something, then once a friend brings it to your attention, suddenly you see this thing referenced everywhere?! This happened to me recently with the idea of compassion fatigue.

My interest was piqued when a good friend and colleague gave me an article to read on this subject a few months ago. We had been talking about just how many of us have phases of feeling totally overwhelmed and almost numb. I don't mean just overwhelmed with paperwork or therapy planning (although that can happen too!) but really drowning in the problems that our clients are experiencing.

I hadn't realized that this was an identified and researched issue among the caring professions, but it is and this month the issue of Compassion fatigue and SLPs was covered beautifully in the LeaderLive by SLP Kathryn Williams.

Kathryn is a certified Compassion Fatigue professional and I highly recommend you take a few moments to read her article online. If you recognize some or all of the symptoms in yourself then it might be time to implement some of the strategies she recommends and to reach out for support. You are most certainly not alone in your experience.

NOTEBOOKERS SAY

I love this resource. I recently started working with some very motivated kiddos that have apraxia. This is PERFECT for them. It allows me to be flexible with how I organize it to fit each kid's needs. It also gives me plenty of options for word and phrase choices. Thank you!

This product is amazing! I lead a preschool group for children with suspected apraxia and this makes lesson planning so easy. I love the detail and thoughtfulness of each activity. Also the bonus of having very slight lines printed on the cards for easy cut out with a paper cutter is amazing, thank you for thinking of this!

We love to hear your feedback! Let our team know what you love and what you need and we can make sure that each and every resource in the Notebooks Club gives exactly what you need to do a great job!
